Course Description

Join the delightful Mrs. Penelope Purl in the enchanting surroundings of Windsor for "Spinning Tales: Fanciful Yarn and Story Weaving." This whimsically delightful class invites adult students to immerse themselves in the magical world of fiber arts, where every twist of the spindle is an opportunity to spin not just yarn, but fabulous tales. In this class, participants will learn the ancient art of spinning wool using traditional drop spindles, transforming soft roving into beautifully textured, colorful yarn. As they work, Mrs. Purl will guide them through the process of infusing their yarn with stories—teaching how to let inspiration flow from the fibers themselves. Storytelling is woven into the very fabric of the class, as students learn about color theory and texture creation while crafting their yarns. They will explore how different colors and patterns can evoke emotions and narratives, turning each skein into a chapter of their personal stories. During the class, students can enjoy cups of tea and biscuits as they engage in creative exchanges, sharing the tales spun from their hands and hearts. By the end of the session, participants will leave not only with their own uniquely spun yarn but also with newfound storytelling skills, ready to weave their own whimsical narratives into the world.
