Course Description

Welcome to 'Whimsical Watercolour Wonders,' where you'll uncover the hidden artistry of the humble puddle. Guided by Mistress Monet McSplash, an eccentric connoisseur of liquid landscapes, this class will take you on a creative journey through the rainy streets of Glasgow. As you don your raincoat and wellies, you will venture outside to seek out the most intriguing puddles formed by recent showers. With portable easels and delicate watercolour brushes in hand, you'll learn to capture the transient beauty of reflections, ripples, and the interplay of light dancing on water surfaces. Mistress Monet McSplash will share her secrets on mastering fluidity and texture, turning unassuming puddles into captivating works of art. You'll explore techniques to highlight the ephemeral nature of these temporary water bodies, allowing you to appreciate and immortalize their fleeting charm. This class encourages mindfulness and enhances your ability to find joy in everyday moments, fostering an appreciation for nature's subtle artistry within urban settings. By the end of this whimsical workshop, you'll have developed newfound skills in plein air painting and a collection of puddle masterpieces that reveal the unexpected beauty lurking in Glasgow's streets.
