Course Description

Embark on a whimsical journey through wood and words in this charming class that combines the art of spoon carving with the magic of storytelling. Nestled in the breathtaking Lake District, 'Enchanted Spoon Carving & Storytelling' invites you to tap into your creative spirit under the guidance of Sir Whittlewood, a master carver known for his lively tales and deft hand. In this unique class, you will learn the age-old skill of carving wooden spoons from locally sourced wood, while Sir Whittlewood regales you with the history of this humble utensil. Discover how spoons have played a pivotal role in British culture, from the kitchens of medieval peasants to the tables of royalty. As you carve, you'll be encouraged to weave a story around your creation, guided by story prompt cards designed to spark your imagination. By the end of the session, not only will you have crafted your very own enchanted spoon, but you'll also have a delightful story to accompany it, ready to share at your next dinner party. Join us for an afternoon where tradition meets imagination, and leave with a skill that blends practical craftsmanship with the art of narrative. Create a piece that is as functional as it is fantastical, and add a dash of magic to your everyday life.
