Course Description

Join us in the picturesque landscapes of Harrogate for a whimsical journey into the world of foraging, inspired by our spiny friends, the hedgehogs. Led by the renowned Professor Pricklesworth, this enchanting class will teach you the art of identifying and harvesting edible plants and fungi in the wild, with a focus on those favored by hedgehogs. Begin your adventure with a gentle stroll through the woods, where you'll learn to safely identify a variety of wild edibles blooming in the English countryside. Equipped with your trusty foraging basket and wooden tools, you'll gather ingredients that are not only safe for humans but also beloved by hedgehogs. Back at our outdoor kitchen, you'll be guided in the creation of a hedgehog-inspired feast. Imagine crafting a delightful mushroom and nut pâté, or a dandelion salad with a whimsical touch. Each dish will be a tribute to our prickly friends, combining artistic presentation with delicious flavors. As you enjoy your culinary creations, Professor Pricklesworth will share insights into the ecological importance of hedgehogs and their role in our ecosystems. You'll leave not only with a satisfied palate but also with a deeper understanding of and respect for these charming creatures and their habitats. This class is perfect for adults seeking a unique blend of culinary arts and ecological wisdom, all while basking in the joy of nature's wonders.
