Course Description

Join us in the heart of Suffolk for a truly unique adventure where the art of befriending our feathered friends meets the playful spirit of high seas exploration! Led by Captain Tweetbeak, renowned for his unparalleled ability to charm parrots, this class is designed for adults yearning to break free from the mundane and embrace the whimsical world of avian alliances. Students will embark on a journey to learn the fundamentals of parrot communication, starting with understanding their squawks and chirps. You'll then dive into creating your own wooden parrot perch and feeding station, using materials provided in the kit. As the class unfolds, you'll learn to mimic pirate-inspired bird calls, adding a touch of theatrical fun to your newly acquired skills. Building trust with parrots will be an adventure in itself as you engage in various exercises designed to earn their loyalty and companionship. In addition, you'll master the art of flying flag signals to communicate with your feathered cohorts from afar—a skill both whimsical and practical in the realm of outdoor expertise. Whether you're a bird enthusiast or a pirate at heart, this class promises to blend creativity with outdoor know-how, leaving you with a newfound appreciation for the vibrant world of avian camaraderie.
